—A story-and-a-half frame house in course of construction by W. J. Collins, near Davenport, was wrecked by the wind Thursday morning. It was insured in Huffman & Hartshorn's agency, Sedalia.
—The residents at East Pacific and Washington avenue are very much disgruntled because the electric light at that point needs a globe and has needed it for some weeks. They talk about raising a purse to buy one.
—The Third street line of railway recently purchased by Judge Metker, was taken possession of on Friday afternoon by his representative, Charley Carroll, who will have charge of its management for the time being.
—The independent labor party of Sedalia had a rousing meeting last evening at Cassidy's hall, at which important topics were discussed by the large number present. Another meeting will be held at the same place to-morrow night, and a good attendance is assured, with eloquent speakers to present their views on the situation.
—Chief Mayes of the Cherokee Nation, stopped off in the city on Friday evening on his way from Washington and paid a brief visit to his friend, Major Beck. The chief is not fulsome in his admiration for President Harrison, but considers him small, not only in stature, but in ability.
—A. H. Thiele, a carpenter, residing at 725 East Fourth street, was precipitated from a scaffold, at the Central electric light works, upon which he was working, a distance of about fifteen feet, Friday afternoon, and was considerably bruised. ## Central Business College.

School is progressing nicely and attendance large, and is likely to continue so during the entire year.

W. H. Lynn, of Wetmore, Kan., left for his home yesterday morning on a visit, with the expectation of going to Buffalo, N. Y., Niagara Falls, New York City and other prominent places before returning. He will be back again in about three weeks.

Young men, if you desire to compete successfully with those already engaged in business, you must have a "fair start." In order to possess this, you must have the necessary qualifications. You must be perfectly familiar with all kinds of business transactions. You must be acquainted with the laws of finance. In short, you must educate yourself for business. To do this in a manner satisfactory to yourself, and in the least time possible go to a first class Commercial College, where you will receive just such instruction as you need. F. F. Coyne left Friday to take a position in Webb City, Mo. He is a good accountant and a gentlemanly young man and will do well.

C. W. Miller of Windsor, Mo., left yesterday to be gone all summer. However, he will return again next winter.

Wanted, some one to take charge of a Boarding Hall. A lady and her husband preferred. Apply immediately to C. W. Robbins at College office.

—The annual election of nine directors of the University Land Company will be held at the office of B. G. Wilkerson, in Sedalia, Mo., on Saturday, April 12, 1890, from 9 till 12 o'clock, a. m.

STOLE THE CLOTHES.

The room of Mr. J. D. Sieher, in the Hegenfritz block was entered by unknown parties Friday night and a suit of clothes, a pair of pantaloons and several shirts removed to parts unknown. The robbery was not discovered until yesterday morning early, when Mr. Sieher went to retire. He found the apartments considerably disarranged, but the lock of the door was not broken. The police were apprised of the theft.

GOT HIS WIFE ANYHOW.

Mrs. Frank Buell, wife of the long-hoired Mexican doctor, was arrested yesterday morning by constable Ramsey on the charge of larceny, prepared by Mrs. Muhrer, the landlady, who alleges that Mrs. Buell had in her possession certain articles of jewelry, of no great value, intrinsically, belonging to Mrs. Muhrer. The woman arrested was too intoxicated to be tried, and she was put in jail until to-morrow morning when Justice Blair will examine into the charges against her.

THE DEATH RATE.

The mortality for March, as may be seen from a glance at the daily papers for the month, which will end to-morrow, has been somewhat lower than it was in February. This is, of course, cause for congratulation, and may be also considered as another evidence of the salubrity of our climate and the healthfulness of Sedalia's location. In this connection, it may be stated that there were twenty-seven deaths in March. Of these, David Ramsey, the undertaker, at 116 West Second street, buried twenty-two. In February there were twenty-nine deaths, and of these, Mr. Ramsey laid away twenty.

A RUNAWAY TEAM

While Mr. J. Barnhart, who resides four miles west of Sedalia, was driving into town yesterday accompanied by Miss Mand Buckley a grand-daughter, his team took fright at the flapping of a canvas on an emigrants wagon and ran away, throwing the occupants of the vehicle out on the road, which was stony at that spot. Miss Buckley was injured about the head, receiving one cut above the left eye, which required several stitches from Dr. Evans, who was called in at the residence, 204 West Seventh street, later in the day. The old gentleman was not hurt. The horses began their runaway about three miles west of town, and were caught on the west edge of Sedalia, having run about two miles, under their excitement. It is fortunate that the accident was not more serious than it was.

WENT TO WARRENSBURG.

Some weeks ago the BAZOON published an item in regard to a school teacher named Chas. Miller, from Elk Fork township, being in Sedalia on legal business connected with a disturbance at his school, in which a family named Powell were chief actors. One of the Powell, John L., left the neighborhood and was last seen at Knob Noster, about to take a train. Friday evening Miller was again in Sedalia and swore out a warrant against Powell before Justice Blair. Yesterday morning, Constable Ramsey, who had sent a description of the missing Powell to Johnson county, received a telegram from Warrensburg that the man wanted was there and in custody. He went up during the afternoon for him, and came back with Powell last night and lodged him in jail until to-morrow, when an examination will be had.

BRIDGE BLOWN AWAY.

From Judge William Boeker, of Smithton, who was in Sedalia yesterday, the BAZOON learns that the bridge over Flat creek, three miles south of Smithton and ten miles from Sedalia, was blown over and completely wrecked Thursday by the terrific storm of wind. The bridge was built about ten years ago at a cost of $2780 and was what is called a "combination" structure, being composed of wood and iron. The span is about 120 feet long. The abutments are uninjured, and the county court, of which Judge Boeker is a member, will make arrangements at its next meeting, the first Monday in April, to have a new bridge built.

The road, upon which the bridge was the means of crossing Flat creek is a heavily traveled one, as all the people in that section use it for an outlet to Smithton and Sedalia from their farms. The creek is not fordable at the place where the bridge went down, and teams, until a new crossing is made, will be compelled to go up the stream about three-fourths of a mile to a ford, and there come down through the fields to the main highway again.

THE BOY IS FOUND.

Mr. James Moser, residing on Independence avenue, Kansas City, came down to Sedalia last Monday evening, in search of his son, W. A. Moser, who had left his home eleven days before. The boy was described by the father as being 16 years old and clad, when last seen, in pants out at the knees, shoes out at the toes, and his other apparel in a rather tattered state. Mr. Moser stated that the boy stayed around Kansas City three or four days and then he heard of him being seen with several colored and white boys of about his own age at Little Blue, a stream near Independence.

The old gentleman made a search through Sedalia and especially among the freight cars on the various railroad tracks, but could get no tidings of the truant lad. Tuesday he wrote letters and sent dispatches to various points east of Sedalia and Tuesday night he returned to Kansas City.

Yesterday morning a dispatch was received in Sedalia from Chief Huebler, of the St. Louis police department, announcing that young Moser had been found in the last mentioned city by the police, and that he would be detained until the arrival of the father. A dispatch was accordingly sent by the police here to Mr. Moser, and this gentleman was expected to pass through on the train at midnight for the Future Great.

LEGAL TENDER.

—Constable Ramsey went west on the afternoon train, yesterday, with a pair of handcuffs in his overcoat pocket.

—Probate Judge Bailey, late Friday afternoon, married John Williams to Mary Williams, both registering from Kansas City.

—Judge D. C. Metsker yesterday filed his new bond in the sum of $5,000, for the electric railway enterprise, and it was duly approved by the mayor.

—No police court again yesterday. The offenders against the majesty of the law seem to be on their good behavior, just now, or is it the majesty of the law that is on it?

—Circuit Clerk Fowler yesterday received the transcripts from Saline county in the cases against Kidney Thomas and Whitfield Powell for murder, brought to Pettis county on a change of venue.

I like my wife to use Pizzoni's Complexion Powder because it improves her looks and is as fragrant as violets.

Bought Fair Grounds.

The board of directors of the Missouri State Fair association had a decisive meeting yesterday afternoon, at the city hall, and at six o'clock had closed with the proposition of J. D. Sieher, and Sieher's park is now the property of the fair association. The new owners will take possession May 1st. The price paid is $30,000, one-third of this amount being practically cash, and the remainder to be paid on the usual terms. The purchase comprises forty-eight acres of land, with all the improvements. The directors are enthusiastic over the settlement of the vexed question of a site, and contemplate having one of the best fairs in their history, August next, on the same grounds they have used for a number of years.

Hibbard's Rheumatic Liver Pills.

These pills are scientifically compounded, uniform in action. No gripping pain so commonly following the use of pills. They are adapted to both adults and children with perfect safety. We guarantee they have no equal in the cure of Sick Headache, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Bileusness, and, as an appetizer, they excel any other preparation. W. E. Bard, druggist.

C. E. Smith, who has been a city charge for several months past, died at his home in the eastern part of the city at 4 o'clock p. m. Friday and was buried yesterday. The deceased leaves a wife and one son, the latter residing at Springfield, Mo.

The son of J. C. White, No. 1605 Grand avenue, died at midnight Friday, aged two weeks, of diphtheria, and was buried at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the city cemetery.

The infant child of George S. Vawter, of this city, died at Girard, Kansas, yesterday morning, and will be buried to-morrow, in this city. Mr. Vawter lost his wife only a few weeks ago, and in this later affliction, he has the sincere sympathy of all his friends and acquaintances.

—Mrs. Alexander, widow of the late Dr. Alexander, of Lexington, is visiting in Marshall, the guest of Dr. L. M. Alexander.

—The Marshall (Mo.) grand jury returned indictments against 30 young men for gambling.—Fulton Sun.

No my dear Sun, it was not a "Marshall grand jury" neither were there 30 young men gambling in this city. The young volunteers of the goddess of fortune were from near the Pettis line and it rode our deputy sheriffs nearly to death to get them here. A lot of the card-players were over in Pettis, and could not be handled in this court. There were few if any indictments found against the young men of Marshall, or old ones either, at this term of court—not even barring progressive euchre.—Marshall Progress.

Rheumatism and Dyspepsia Cured.

Miss Jannette Day used several bottles of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup and found almost instant relief. I have received greater benefit from the use of Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup for dyspepsia than any medicine I ever used. Many of my acquaintances have used it and all speak of it in the highest terms.

MISS EMILY A. DAY.
We certify to the above testimonials. We have never handled remedies that give such universal satisfaction.

While taking down a hand-saw from a sack at his home last evening, Hiram Nelson was badly cut on his right hand by it falling. The arteries and leaders were cut and it bled most profusely. Dr. Overstreet dressed the wound, taking several stitches in it. It is a bad injury and Mr. Nelson will be disabled for some time.
